Venue: - CID Department, Ganeshkhind, Pune.

Date and Time: - 4th and 6th January 2018, 11.00 a.m.

Introduction: - From January 02 to January 06, 2018, Modern Law College hosted a visit to the Crime Investigation Department (hereafter "the Department"). The visit was organised by the College in response to a letter from the CID Department dated January 29, 2018. The visit was prompted by the Department's commemoration of 'Raising Day,' which took place from January 2 through January 8, 2018. The major goal of the event was to foster communication between the police and the general people.

Working of CID:-

The Maharashtra Department is based in Pune, on Pashan Road, immediately close to the College. The goal of the tour was to have a better understanding of the Department's operations and fingerprint analysis.

The Department's goal is to make Maharashtra the safest state in the country. The mantra that guides them is "finding wrong to discover the truth."

The Maharashtra State Police's investigating wing is the Department. The Department's and local police departments use the same investigating process. The Department, on the other hand, only gets involved when the investigation is difficult or involves interstate/ inter-district issues.

Subject - A visit to C.I.D.

I was always excited to visit the C.I.D. office and finally it became true.

I experienced a lot many things like firstly the C.I.D. shown on the television and the reality is complete different. Yes there are some main things which are similar like investigations, fingerprint scanning etc. But the reality is way much more different from reel life.

As in C.I.D. visited we got to learn many new things about investigations, finger prints, handwriting etc & our many doubts got cleared. It was also amazing to hear the experience from the DIG. The tools used in past for investigation and other process was also quiet interesting.

But I also expected ~~son~~ to see some new techniques, as the time was less or it was not allowed maybe. I hope one day I may get to see the latest technology used in investigation process

INTRODUCTION

Chapter I

1.1 INTRODUCTION

›ove well-known proverb is now getting legal recognition as Right to Privacy. Human ings have a natural need to autonomy or control over confidential part of their. This need is ıerent in human behavior and now this has been recognized as fundamental right to ivacy. It is not a right against physical restrains but it is a right against psychological ;train or encroachment of right . USA, UK, India, UDHR, ECHR has recognized this right fundamental right. The scholars and judges have also found the necessity of this right. arren and Brandeis were the some of them. Well known Lord Denning also found its cessity in modern life and also tried to trace out the root of right to privacy in the common v.

India, the main political party, the Congress, had for long been demanding these Rights ainst the British rule. During the British rule in India, human rights were violated by the ers on a very wide scale. Therefore, the framers of the Constitution, many of whom had ffered long incarceration during the British regime, had a very positive attitude towards ›se rights.

condly, the Indian society is fragmented into many religious, cultural and linguistic groups, d it was necessary to declare Fundamental Rights to give to the people a sense of security d confidence. Then, it was thought necessary that people should have some Rights which ıy be enforced against the government which may become arbitrary at times. Though nocracy was being introduced in India, yet democratic traditions were lacking, and there s a danger that the majority in the legislature may enact laws which may be oppressive to lividuals or minority groups, and such a danger could be minimized by having a Bill of ghts in the Constitution.

SECURITY AND PRIVACY ISSUES IN E-BANKING: AN EMPIRICAL STUDY OF CUSTOMERS' PERCEPTION

INTRODUCTION

As the new millennium and information age progress, organizations around the world are going through massive transformation efforts to cope with the constantly changing business market trends .Volatile financial markets have all added to the pressure on organizations to come up with effective responses to survive and succeed. Furthermore, easing of international trade barriers, economic liberalization, globalization, and deregulation have led to several challenges for organizations in developing and newly industrializing economies (Laisuzzaman et al., 2010) like India. To effectively respond to the rapid changes in the external environment, several firms have turned to information technology to improve their productivity and competitiveness. Until the mid-1990s, many Indian organizations had operated under a protected economic regime, limited competition, and a regulated environment. This had resulted in limited focus on process efficiencies, centralized control structures, highly formalized business settings, and lack of professional business practices. However, following the economic liberalization and opening up of the economy to foreign competition, Indian organizations have been forced to adopt modern business practices and strategies. In an effort to enhance their competitiveness, several organizations have turned to information and communication technology to improve business processes and exploit efficiencies in the value chain (Kannabiran, 2005). The development of communication and information technologies has encouraged the emergence of new distribution channels that have enhanced the options available to businesses for building relationships with clients: for communication activities, customer distribution, customer satisfaction control, postsale service etc. Nowadays, simultaneous use of various channels is increasingly more important, which gives rise to the need for a multichannel contact strategy for clients. Albesa (2007) asserts that businesses should seek a multichannel configuration that provides _channel advantages', because each channel presents some differential strengths, but at the same time presents limitations and complications, in this way, the use of

Yerwada Jail Visit 2019

P.E.S. Modern Law College conducted Yerwada Jail Visit for the students of law on 27th of April 2019. Asst. Prof. Pawan Kalwala, Asst. Prof. Mayura Borde and Asst. Prof. Prajakta Pimpalshende was the faculty in charge of the same about 26 students were taken to the Yerwada Central Jail.

Before entering the main campus the students went through a search procedure. The very first thing that grabbed the attention of all was the inner premises of the Central Jail in which was an unexpected view, an open place with an abundance of fresh air, silence in the environment, bird's twitter and lavish greenery. Inmates were seen engaged in various works. There is the availability of the library, Art of Living, Sports facilities, and many more.

Assistant Jailor Dnyaneshwar Kharat and Sanjay Mayekar were our guides who provided information about various activities and administration of the jail. In the Central Jail students have seen kitchen and cooking activity done by inmates. Thereafter students had some question-answer session with the authority in charge.

Police officer briefed the students about the daily activities of inmates and the following information is gathered from the same:-

Prisons are divided into various section and inmates are allotted specific tasks like cooking, cleaning, etc. Provisions are also made for common programmes for the entertainment of prisoners. There are amenities like Hospital with the availability of well-qualified doctors. As per Police Sub-Inspector Kharat, there was no patient of dengue in the past five years. The officer also discussed the daily meal of prisoners.

Then all the students were taken to Gandhi Yard. This jail housed much Indian freedom fighters. Students observed all the barrack of each freedom fighters including Mahatma Gandhi, Jawaharlal Nehru, Netaji Subhas Bose, Bal Gangadhar Tilak, etc.

Very surprisingly students got the chance to see the radio station of Yerwada Jail. This is first of its kind in-house radio station is for the prisoners, by the prisoners and about the prisoners. Students were lucky enough to hear the recorded sound of Sanjay Dutt. This was certainly a very special visit as the girls were allowed to visit the Central prison with proper security.

The perception of students about jail was very different before the visit. But the whole perception and opinion of the students about the prisoners totally changed after the visit.

Approach to farming which include crop farming, agro forestry and animal husbandry. Loan waiver is an another provision available at the center and state government. It has been observed up to December 2018, 8 states have been granted a loan waiver to the farmers.

Conclusion

While over 57% of India's population depends on agriculture for livelihood. Most farmers in India diversify into different subsectors in an attempt to boost, and often mitigate risk. Indian agriculture has come a long way, with the country among the world's top seven food exporters today. However this positive headline obscures continuing challenges with farms productivity and incomes. While agriculture ahs progressed significantly, most farmers have not.

Lok Adalat Visit 2019-2020

Date: 8th Feb 2020

The concept of Lok-Adalat is an innovative Indian contribution to the jurisdiction of prudence. The concept of Lok-Adalat in India, the very name suggests means "people's court." India has a long tradition and history of such methods being used in the society at the ground level or very initial level; they are called 'Panchayats' at the local levels. It has been proved to be a very effective alternative to litigation. The earlier concept of settling disputes through mediation, negotiation, or alternate arbitral process is known as 'peoples court' or the 'Lok Adalat.' The reason for them being to relieve the burden on the judiciary.

The purpose of the visit was to understand the working of a court, the nature of duties of the judicial officers in the matters of Lok Adalat. To understand how the conciliation, settlement of disputes in the traditional Indian culture in the form of Nyaya Adalat or Gram Panchayats led to the introduction of Lok Adalats, which added a new chapter to the justice dispensation system of the country. How does it provide a supplementary forum to the victims for a satisfactory settlement of their disputes?

The visit helped the students understand the actual functioning and coordination taking place in the Lok-Adalat and how it benefits the people considering the advantage that came along and the disadvantages the parties had to face due to unavoidable errors on the part of the court. The students visited a unique and efficient form of the judicial legal system.

The Lok-Adalat was arranged by the Pune District Court at Shivajinagar court on 8Th February 2020 from 10.30 in the morning. Thirty students from LLB-II and faculty of the college Assistant Professor Mr. Akshay Ugale assembled at the court for the Adalat.

After the attendance procedure and explaining a brief about the process, students were led to information corner in the court, which displayed all the cases which were up for hearing today. Cases were divided into their types to various courtrooms. The students were asked to make a group of 3-4. Each group was assigned a courtroom in which they would go for attending the hearing after the initial group allotment; students were sent into their respective courtrooms where they attended cases related to the Indian Contracts Act 1872, Civil Procedure Code 1908, Indian Penal Code, Arbitration and Conciliation Act 1996, and others.

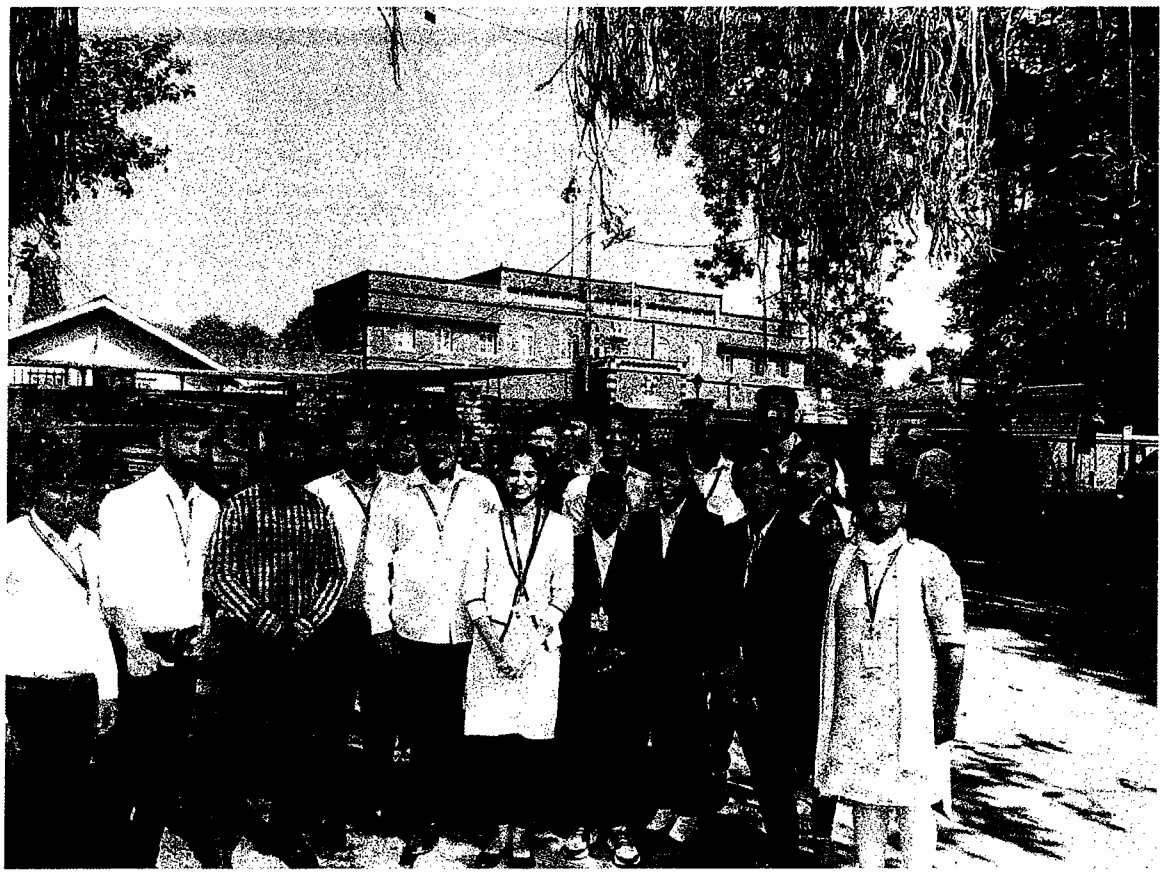
Yerwada Jail visit 2019

Acknowledgment

We, the students of LLB 3rd year, would like to pay our sincere gratitude towards our Prof. Akshay Ugale, Prof. Abhijeet Dhere, Prof. Prajakta Pimpalshende for arranging our visit to Yerwada Jail to understand the jail organization and its functioning.

We are also thankful to Police Officer Dayaneshwar Kharat for making us understand things in a much practical way.



Purpose of the visit

The primary purpose of the visit was to study the role of Yerwada Jail in the treatment of prisoners in the framework of rehabilitative and reformative activities given to the prisoners, the responsibility of the jail authorities towards prisoners, the behaviour of the inmates of the jail.

Physical Observation

Our visit timing was fixed at 11.30 am on 23rd Nov 2019. We were instructed not to carry any gadgets or bags and only take our ID proofs inside the jail. We went to the main Yerwada Jail, where male prisoners are kept.

We were first guided to the place where the famous Poona Pact was signed between Dr. Ambedkar and Gandhiji in 1932. That area has been conserved. It also showcases Gandhiji's Charkha.

Then we were escorted to the kitchen area where the prisoners were preparing lunch for themselves. As we entered the kitchen, we were invited to taste the food that the prisoners had just prepared. We took a round of the kitchen where we saw a couple of big machines preparing flour dough in good quantity. Then we saw the prisoners standing in a line making rotis and vegetables.

Then we were escorted to the library, which was closed on that day. However, the library was rich in books, journals and magazines which were in different languages.

The police officer then briefed us about the daily activities of the inmates: -

Prisoners are engaged in various activities. The prison is divided into various sections, and inmates are allotted tasks like cooking, cleaning, carpenter, FM Radio, stitching, etc. Every prisoner wakes up at 6.00 am. The work is allotted only to convicts and not to under-trial prisoners. The salary of the prisoners is divided into three categories; Unskilled labor, Semi-skilled Labour, Skilled Labour at the rate of 30 rupees – 61 rupees per day.

After that, the Police officer cleared our queries and doubts in the question-answer session.

We discussed:

What is the vision of the prison department?

The prisons nowadays are styled as a correctional institution rather than as an institution for punishment. With the evolution of society and the increasing importance of human rights, we have moved to an era of reformation from the era of retribution.

What is the quantity of the food provided to the prisoners?

It depends on the type of work the prisoners do. They usually are provided 450gms -500gms of food.

Whether Home cooked food is allowed?

It is no longer allowed for the family to bring food for inmates. It is allowed only on the order of the court subject to examination and rules. On bringing the approved items for a prisoner, the quantity of the food is measured; only 500grms of food is allowed, and the family member tests the meal in front of the officer in charge before it is provided to the inmate.

What are the premises of the jail?

The jail is spread over around 540 acres for administration premises where agriculture and other activities are carried out.

PRINCIPAL
P. E. Society's
Modern Law College
Ganeshkhind, Pune-16.

Are Labour Laws applicable?

No, the labour laws are not applicable because they are prisoners.

Whether festivals are celebrated?

Festivals like Ganesh Chaturthi, Diwali, etc., are celebrated to improve the mental health of the prisoners.

Has anyone tried to escape jail premises?

The murder convict, who was serving a life term at the jail, procured the pipes, hook, and blade from the jail industry, where he was assigned the task of making furniture escaped from Yerwada prison.

Are there any education facilities for inmates?

Prison education is widely appreciated because it adds to their reformation. Education makes them better people. IGNOU (Indira Gandhi National Open University) and YCM are the universities that provide books and other study material to the inmates. The government bears expenditure on fees for IGNOU/YCM.

Why can students not access the other premises of the prison?

One of the convicts had filed a writ petition stating that the prisoners behind bars are not the zoo's animals. The court allowed the petition.

Are Medical facilities provided?

The Medical facilities are provided in the jail premises, but for the surgery, the jail authorities are depended on Sassoon Hospital.

We were escorted to FM Radio Room, where the songs were aired to the entire jail premises through this room. This was done to divert the minds of the inmates from the wrong ideas. The operator of this room was a prison inmate. Other inmates can request him to play a song of their choice.

This was indeed a great visit as we visited for the first time. Naturally, the perception of the jail was very different when we entered the premises. But whole perception and opinion about the prisoners, the authorities, and the prison administration changed after the visit. Custody, care, and treatment are the three main functions of the modern prison organization.
