CRITERION 2

2.2.1: The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organises special Programmes/ have policies in place for different levels of learners

The college organizes bridge course program for the students at the commencement of the programme for the new batch every year which help the students get familiarized with the institution, curricular and co-curricular activities, facilities, rules and regulations etc. Prior to the start of classes, the various needs of the students are identified and addressed as soon as possible using a strategic approach. Communication skills, personality development, time management, and motivating sessions are all taught to the students. Mid-semester tests, end-of-semester exams, assignments, presentations, viva-voce exams, and other methods are used by the college to assess students' learning levels on a regular basis. This strategy is used as part of a blended learning approach for students with various learning capacities. For slow learners, the college also offers tutorial programmes, teacher-student interactions, lectures, and group discussions.

The university test pattern was changed to multiple choice questions during the pandemic. Teachers have produced practise questions for the students to address this shift, which have been reviewed in class. This is to guarantee that slow learners get enough practise with the new examination format. Class teachers and topic teachers hold online sessions with students to provide remedial lectures for slow learners and to encourage advanced learners to participate in various competitions and research initiatives, both offline and online, as appropriate. To expand the knowledge base, online materials are made available. To obtain knowledge, students are urged to attend seminars, conferences, and workshops. When ordering books for the library, the faculty pays close attention to ensure that the collection of books meets the needs of both slow and advanced learners. The library also ensures that online information is accessible by computer and internet, extends its hours, and provides a favourable learning environment for both slow and advanced learners. The faculty assists students in getting their articles published in prestigious peer-reviewed journals. The mentor-mentee scheme helps to assess the learning levels by understanding the students individually.

Name of Student : Shubham Ghute

Shubham was confused about chosing the optional group of subjects even after the induction lectures of all teachers.

Recomendation:
I asked him which field/area would he like to pursue his career and helped him choose the optional subject by excluding the areas which he did not want to pursue his career in.

Name: Sagar Vansing Padvi

Sagar had a major problem with speaking & writing english. Due to this he had planned to leave the study of law as the medium of instruction is english.

Mentoring done:
I recommended the Per-Meditatus Programme & Language Lab, usage to him which helped in gaining confidence in English language. He did have some backlog subjects in the first semester but cleared them by the second semester.

Name: Tejashree Jagtap.

Tejashree Jagtap was very shy to talk with her class-mates. I identified her non-mixing with other students and called her to meet me.

Mentoring done:
I spoke with her about her background & likes & dislikes etc. which made her a little comfortable to talk and then I helped in boosting her confidence by involving her in college activities.
I also gave her tasks like leading a group discussion which made her pretty confident
