REPORT ON DOCTRINE OF PRECEDENT

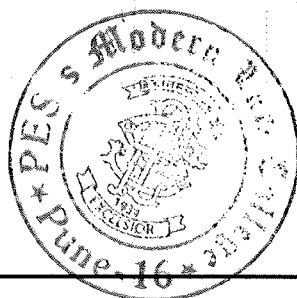

BY JMFC PRAJAKTA DHANE

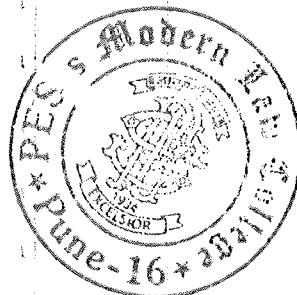

A judge must interpret statutes as written. And a judge must interpret the Constitution as written, informed by history and tradition and precedent." – Brett Kavanaugh, Associate Justice of Supreme Court of India.

Every developed legal system possesses a judicial organ which adjudicates the rights and obligations of the citizens of the nation. At earlier stage, the courts were guided by customs and their own sense of justice. With the advent of society, the legislation becomes the main source of law and judges decide cases according to it. Even at this stage, the judges perform some creative functions. The judges to some extent depend on their sense of right and wrong in matters of interpretation or in filling up any lacuna in the law made by the legislation. In simple terms, a judicial precedent is a judgment of a court of law in India which is cited as an authority to decide a similar set of facts and which can be used by the courts as a source for future decision making.

To achieve more understanding about the most important Doctrine of Precedent P. E. S. Modern Law College's organized a guest lecture on the DOCTRINE OF PRECEDENT BY JMFC PRAJAKTA DHANE. In the program Prajakta madam has thrown a light upon historical aspects of judicial precedent, position under Indian Constitution, General principles of Precedents. In her concluding remarks she said that "The doctrine of precedents makes the decisions of courts, usually binding on the subordinate courts in cases in which similar or identical question of law raised before the court. The great value of the doctrine of precedents is that it provides certainty. The court has to keep the balance between the need of certainty and continuity and the desirability of growth and development of law."
