18th SHANKARRAO KANITKAR NATIONAL MOOT COURT COMPETITION

12 – 13th January 2024

Shankarrao Kanitkar National Moot Court Competition is an annual moot court competition conducted by the Progressive Education Society's Modern Law College. This competition has been established in the name of our founder member of the society Late Shri Shankarrao Kanitkar, a visionary in the field of education. This competition is intended to be a platform for law students studying all over the country.

The 18th edition of the Shankarroo Kanitkar National Moot Court Competition was organized by Progressive Education Society's Modern Law College, Pune from 12th to 13th January 2024. Each iteration of this moot court competition has garnered success and ecstasy, this year was no different. With the efficient management of the concerned coordinator, principal, faculty, student volunteer and coordinator of this esteemed college, this event was a major success. The Theme for this year's competition belonged to the aspect of Environment law laying major emphasis upon the “Electronic Vehicle” and everything pertaining to the future of sustainability.

MOOT PROBLEM - I

MOUNTAINS AND LAKES RESTORATION COALITION (MLRC) V. REPUBLIC OF ECOLAND

- In the sovereign nation of Ecoland, the government has taken a proactive step towards achieving net-zero emissions and fostering sustainable development. With a vision of a cleaner and greener future, Ecoland has introduced comprehensive legislation aimed at promoting electric vehicles (EVs) and reducing the carbon footprint. The centerpiece of this legislation is an aggressive timeline for phasing out internal combustion engine vehicles in favor of EVs.
- Ecoland's ambition for net-zero emissions has not come without challenges. In response to the proposed legislation, a coalition of environmentalists, local communities affected by lithium mining activities, and industrial players, represented by an NGO named the Mountains and Lakes Restoration Coalition (MLRC), is raising concerns and legal objections. These concerns include the environmental impact of lithium mining, the potential for water shortages in mining areas, and the economic implications for industry players affected by the abrupt shift towards EVs.
- The legal question at the heart of the matter is whether Ecoland's legislation promoting EVs and sustainability is consistent with its national and international obligations. The government argues that the legislative measures are essential for environmental protection and the fulfillment of international commitments relating to carbon reduction and sustainable development goals. The MLRC contends that these measures pose significant challenges for local communities and that the interests of industry players might not be fully considered.
- The Supreme Court of Ecoland is tasked with resolving this legal dispute. The case promises to explore the complex intersection of environmentalism, industry interests, and government policies in the context of achieving net-zero emissions and sustainable development. The decision of the Supreme Court will have far-reaching implications for Ecoland's environmental policies and its path towards sustainability.

Note : Participants are expected to identify the issues involved in the matter.

MOOT PROBLEM - II

ASSOCIATION OF PRIVATE LANDOWNERS V. REPUBLIC OF ECOLAND

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF ECOLAND

CIVIL APPEAL NO. [XYZ] OF [YEAR]

Association of private landowners

..Appellant

Versus

Republic of Ecoland

..Respondent

Facts:

- The Republic of Ecoland, committed to combating climate change and promoting sustainable energy practices, enacts a Renewable Generation Obligation (RGO). Under the RGO, all electricity-generating entities are mandated to produce a minimum of 50% of their total energy output from renewable sources within next five years.
- However, several private landowners, whose properties are suitable for traditional energy production, argue that the RGO infringes upon their constitutional right to use their land as they see fit and challenges their right to property.
- Simultaneously, a coalition of environmental activists supports the RGO, emphasizing its potential to reduce carbon emissions and potential to reduce carbon emissions and promote a greener future. They argue that the collective benefit to society justifies any limitations on individual property rights.

Issues:

1. Does the Renewable Generation Obligation (RGO) infringe upon the constitutional rights of private landowners, particularly their right to use their property as they see fit?
2. To what extent can government regulations, aimed at addressing environmental concerns, restrict individual property rights without violating constitutional principles?
3. How should the balance be struck between promoting sustainable energy practices for the greater good and protecting the individual rights of property owners?

Note: All laws and regulations in Ecoland are pari materia to India.
